IN BANKRUPTCY.

In the matter of DUDLEY F LEAVITT, Bankrupt, against whom a petition was filed in said Court, Dec. 20th, A. D. 1877.

DISTRICT OF MAINE, ss:

A warrant in Bankruptcy has been issued, by said Court, against the estate of Dudley F. Leavitt, of the County of Penobscot and State of Maine, in said District, he has been duly adjudged bankrupt upon petition of his creditors, and the payment of any debts, and the delivery of any property belonging to said bankrupt, to him or to his use, and the transfer of any property by him, are forbidden by law. A meeting of the creditors of said bankrupt, to prove their debts, and choose one or more assignees of his estate, will be held at a Court of Bankruptcy, to be holden at Bangor in said District, on the [illegible] day of March, A. D. 1878, at [illegible] o'clock A. M., at the Bankrupt Court Room, before Charles Hamlin, Esq., one of the Registers in Bankruptcy of said District.

ST. NICHOLAS.

SCRIBNER'S ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE

FOR

GIRLS AND BOYS.

February Number Now Ready.

*The LONDON ACADEMY (December 21 '77) says: "In ST NICHOLAS we welcome the best stamp of periodical literature that we have yet seen. * * * We have no hesitation in saying that it is in the letter press and in the pictures this American magazine has no rival."*

In ST NICHOLAS for December, the Grand Christmas Number was begun a charming new

Serial Story by Miss Alcott

Under the title [illegible] illustrated by MARY HALLOCK FOOTE, to continue during the year. This superb Christmas number, of which one hundred thousand copies were printed, contained the opening chapters of

A "ROBINSON CRUSOE STORY" for boys, "Tower Mountain," by GUSTAVUS FRANKENSTEIN, also poems by LONGFELLOW and BRYANT, a portrait of Miss Alcott, half a dozen short stories, pictures, poems, etc., etc. It is the handsomest number of a children's magazine ever issued.

The NEW YORK TRIBUNE says:

"ST NICHOLAS has a list of contributors such as no other children's magazine, or few publications of any sort in the world can boast. It has caused the best writers in America to turn their attention to the task of giving delight and imparting culture to children. In the whole field of juvenile literature that threatens the children some strong, vitally wholesome and really attractive magazine is required for them, and ST NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform and commands for this service wider resources in art and letters than any of its predecessors or contemporaries."

ST NICHOLAS FOR 1878,

Besides the SERIAL STORIES above announced, will have a short serial story by the author of "The Schonberg-Cotta Family," and THREE SPLENDID SERIALS FOR BOYS, one of which, "DRIFTED INTO PORT," by EDWIN HODDER, an English writer, will begin in March. "Around the world in a Yacht, Boys" has been promised by a brilliant writer, now on the actual tour of the world in his own yacht. There will be contributions by a daughter of the famous Peter Parley and a Letter to Young Americans by

GEORGE MACDONALD

The "HOW" Series of instructive papers by various authors will tell HOW to bind your own books, HOW to make coal, HOW to enjoy yourselves at home, HOW to be an agreeable guest, HOW to entertain company, HOW to be a carpenter, HOW to make an ice-boat, HOW to build a house, How India rubber is gathered, HOW matches are made, HOW to be a Parlor Magician, HOW money is made, HOW mackerel are caught, HOW they laid the Atlantic cable, HOW they mine in California, HOW they work in the tea-country, etc. There will be also a series of stories and sketches of Foreign Life, such as "Old Nicolai" (a Russian story), "A Day among the Welsh Castles," "Fasten in Germany," "The Indians of the Amazon," "How Kitty was lost in a Turkish Bazar," "Master Montezuma" (a Mexican story) "Hansa, the Lapp Maiden," and many others.

TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE,

Jack in the Pulpit, Young contributors' Department, Letter Box, Riddle Box and For Very Little Folks will be continued.

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS

The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world and the expounder of that world's laws, and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume and social habits.—Boston Traveller.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the young ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for the children's clothes, to paterfamilias by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fireside enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—N. Y. Evening Post.

A WAR DEMAND FOR OUR PRODUCTS

[From the Inter Ocean.]

Up to the close of November, 1877, there were scarcely any indication of a war demand for any of our products, except only arms, ammunition, and preserved meats. Certainly there was no such indication as regards the staple articles of provisions, almost every one of which had been exported in less aggregate quantity than during the equal period of the previous year. The same was true as regards breadstuffs, save barley, corn, rye, and rye flour. Of wheat we exported but 17,028,495 bushels, and of wheat flour but 2,386,018 barrels, in the first eleven months of 1877, as against 48,513,552 bushels and 3,641,195 barrels in the first eleven months of 1876. In short, the statistical record offered no hope whatever that the European conflict would provide any new or additional market for our agricultural surplus, now larger than in any former year.

Since then appearances have radically changed. The prospect now is that a very considerable demand in Europe for our surplus will soon make its if generally felt. According to the official returns made to the Bureau of Statistics for last January, the exports of provisions from the principal ports were as follows: From New York, $9,269,131, from Boston, $1,178,023, from Baltimore, $571,123, and from Portland, $152,532—a total of $11,170,059 from these four ports alone. From New York the articles consisted of 51,844,879 pounds of hams and bacon; 2,071,540 pounds of fresh, and 2,752,570 pounds of salt beef; 4,389,424 pounds of pork; 31,278,412 pounds of lard; 1,181,156 pounds of tallow, 5,893,010 pounds of cheese; and 506,662 pounds of butter. These are unprecedented figures, and they largely exceed the totals for January, 1876, which were themselves extraordinarily large. Then the exports of ham and bacon from all our ports amounted to 61,369,687 pounds, or only 12,155,805 more than from New York alone in last January. In that month New York exported 311,528 pounds more of tallow, 10,011,121 pounds more of lard, and 2,353,230 pounds more of cheese than went to foreign countries from all our ports together in January of last year. We have never before had any exhibit even approaching to these remarkable figures.

It may now be assumed as probable that our markets will henceforth feel more and more the pressure of European demand. The very general mobilization of the military forces of kingdoms and empires in the old world, to support war to secure an armed neutrality, has been carried to such extent that the disturbing influences have at length spread to the American markets. It is unavoidable that the withdrawal of large numbers of men from the field and the workshop, to enter upon the unproductive service of military duty, should soon derange both agriculture and manufactures in the countries where such interruptions take place, and that, since the disturbance has more or less affected nearly all the governments of Europe, the superabundant resources of America should be looked to for the supply of deficiencies. Even in the present attitude of affairs abroad, the demand for our surplus, which has begun to show itself as an active force in our markets, is likely to be intensified, for some months to come, by the unsettled condition of hostilities, and by the uncertainties of settling the war problem at the coming conference of the great powers. If the conflict should be renewed, and especially if other countries should be drawn into it, it may be regarded as almost certain that the surplus product of the United States in many industries will be asked for and taken at profitable prices, with much relief to the business depression which now universally prevails.

The horrible tragedy which occurred at Dexter last Friday, in the attempted robbery of the savings bank at that place, is no less painful in its details than the cruel murder of the Tram family at Bucksport, and it has caused the greatest excitement in that usually quiet village. The effect of the tragedy on the people is measured by the high esteem in which Mr. Barron was so justly held by all who knew and who bear witness to his noble character and the fidelity with which all trusts committed to his care were watched over. The faithful treasurer it seems must have been killed in a fruitless attempt of the robbers to make him disclose the combination which would enable them to open the chest containing the funds of the bank. How cruelly he was tortured by the fiends can hardly be estimated. His death without a return to consciousness closed forever one most valuable source of information concerning the murderous assailants who were foiled in securing their intended booty by his "faithfulness unto death." An honest man, a well beloved citizen, James W. Barron earned such a record by the purity of his life, and the manner in which he lost it, though it may be a question whether he should have preserved the funds of the bank at such a cost, has placed him among the few who were or are truly heroes.

The work of ferreting out the perpetrators of the foul crime has begun, and it should not close so long as the faintest hope of capturing or even obtaining a clue to them remains. That pursuit of the villains on the part of the good people of Dexter will be tireless there is no doubt, and that the efforts to bring the guilty to justice may be successful is the hope of all.

The Washington special of the Boston Journal says in speaking of the silver bill that Secretary Sherman will execute the law though "many points have been discovered by which he could practically nullify the law, if so disposed. No directions are given as to the manner in which the silver is to be used. If the revenue is sufficient for the expenditures, the silver coined in the next three years could be retained in the Treasury as a coin reserve, by replacing the gold reserve with the silver dollars. Another means of evasion is found in the existing law, which permits the Secretary of the Treasury to sell gold for greenbacks for current expenses. Two millions monthly could be taken from the gold reserve through this law, and be replaced by an equal amount of silver, until the gold should be exhausted. There is gold enough to last until the end of this Administration. Meanwhile all the silver coin could be kept in the Treasury. The customs could be paid in gold. Such construction of the law would undoubtedly be followed by stringent legislation. Under the bill as passed bankers and citizens can make contracts in gold, paper and silver, and the banks, it is claimed, might combine against silver. The Secretary of the Treasury, if the Resumption act is not repealed, can also use the law as an efficient means to resumption, by paying out silver as rapidly as coined, and holding greenbacks. The point is raised that as the law does not define the standard in which the Secretary is to estimate the worth of bullion, he says he may do it in gold, legal tender or silver. His choice of the basis of value might make a difference of a large amount in bullion purchase."

THE FIGHT GONE OUT OF THE TURKS. The Constantinople correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says in his last letter:

"It is curious to note the stolidity and indifference of the Mussulman population. The Turkish journal Vakit (Times) a few days since flamed out with a most belligerent article. It compared Constantinople with Paris when besieged by the Prussians, and said that the true believers would prove themselves as valiant in defence of their capital as the Parisians did of theirs. This jeremiad excited only laughter and contempt. The same night the walls of the mosques, and even the gates of the Sublime Porte, were placarded with denunciations of the Government, and calling upon the people to desist from resistance and to yield to the enemy, to which a faithless Sultan and his Ministers had betrayed them. This demonstration was so alarming to the authorities that an imperial irade was issued the next day threatening instant death to any one who should be connected with such seditious appeals, or who should even be found reading them. This was supplemented by an earnest appeal to the people to rally in defence of their homes, and to inscribe themselves on the volunteer list on the Seraskierat (Minister of War) Square, in the centre of the city, and which is traversed by all the principal streets. Although Djevdet Pasha himself was to preside over the enrollment not one inhabitant of Constantinople, Mussulman, Jew or Christian, presented himself. For the first time the Government had a convincing demonstration of the despondency of the population, and their want of confidence in its loyalty and capacity."

According to the latest estimates, the Italian Government can bring into the field 340,000 men, and can mobilize 200,000 men for a second line. There are, in addition, 300,000 men in the reserves. All the corps of the first line are armed with modern rifles, and all the guns of the artillery are breech-loaders. Neither the so-called territorial militia, kept for internal service, nor the garrisons are included in the above figures. The forces are divided into armies, army corps and divisions. The number of armies depends upon the strategical necessities of a war, and an army may be composed of three, four, or even more army corps. The military estimates for the current year, on a peace footing, are about $40,000,000, a considerable increase over the year preceding. An important reform has been introduced into the army by the separation of the sanitary service from the commissariat.

The Grand Jury of Lincoln county, Mississippi, investigated a large number of the alleged outrages. The men who engaged in them live in the communities where the crimes were perpetrated; but so terrorized are the best citizens that they dare not testify against the "miscreants." And the State is quiet because of "local self-government" administered by the tools of these same "miscreants" who can boldly massacre or terrorize those who believe in law, order and justice, or by the courts, as in the Anderson case in Louisiana, execute rebel vengeance on innocent persons who oppose them politically.

The Aroostook Valley Sunrise in a very able review of the action of the Maine Senate in the case Burleigh vs. Madigan, approves it and says: "We are very gravely told in a certain paper that this action of the Senate, in seating Mr. Burleigh, will ruin the republican party in Aroostook! Well, so be it! It cannot be helped if it does. It has been ruined a great many times, but it don't stay ruined worth a cent! There will not be much of a shower?"

The Utah Legislature has passed a law and the Governor has signed it, which disfranchises the Gentiles and irrevocably places the control of elections in the hands of the Mormon priests.

PERISTALTIC LOZENGES.

The effects of

COSTIVENESS

When long continued are a fullness in the head, dizziness, nausea or sickness at the stomach, a general distress in the abdominal region, congestion of the liver, and [illegible] impeded circulation of the blood [illegible], especially the

PILES.

The grand proximate cause of Dyspepsia is debility of the stomach. The torpidity of the liver is apparent from the small quantity of bile discharged from that organ; it also is a dull pain on the right side. Under whichever form

DYSPEPSIA

Appears there is always languor or debility, excessive fatigues, the pulse is weak, [illegible] the extremities cold, the tongue for the most part furred or covered with a creamy mucus in the morning. No person with a constipated or irregular state of the bowels can have sound health.

It is evident that some gentle laxative, slightly stimulating to the mucous membrane of the intestines, joined with a tonic, that increases the secretions of the liver and gradually strengthening the stomach, must be of signal utility. [illegible] That this combination will do, for proof of which we are happy to be able to refer those interested [illegible], to the most reliable physicians, who have long used this remedy in their practice, and also to every apothecary by whom the Peristaltic Lozenges are sold.

Two Lozenges will repair the mischief caused by the excessive use of those "Patent Pills," with which the country has for years been flooded.

They are so agreeable to the taste, and convenient in form, that children eat them readily after rejecting the usual nauseous remedies. In those symptoms supposed to indicate the presence of Worms, they are a sure remedy.

Price 30 and 60 cents. For sale by druggists, or by mail on receipt of price in P. O. stamps or money.

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

ITS MEDICINAL PROPERTIES ARE

Alterative, Tonic, Solvent, and Diuretic.

Vegetine is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots, and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of SCROFULA, SCROFULOUS HUMOR, TUMORS, CANCER, CANCEROUS HUMOR, ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM, SYPHILITIC DISEASES, CANKER, FAINTNESS AT THE STOMACH, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. SCIATICA, INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, GOUT, AND SPINAL COMPLAINTS, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For ULCERS and ERUPTIVE DISEASES of the SKIN, PUSTULES, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, BOILS, TETTER, SCALDHEAD and RINGWORM, Vegetine has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For PAINS IN THE BACK, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, DROPSY, FEMALE WEAKNESS, LEUCORRHŒA, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and GENERAL DEBILITY, Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For CATARRH, DYSPEPSIA, HABITUAL COSTIVENESS, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, HEADACHE, PILES, NERVOUSNESS, and GENERAL PROSTRATION OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the Vegetine. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by Vegetine have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

WHAT IS VEGETINE?

It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers, for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep, as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the Vegetine. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it, it has cured me."

Valuable Information.

BOSTON, Mass.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease, I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until I commenced taking the Vegetine; and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man; and my skin is smooth, and entirely free from pimples and eruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of Vegetine. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of the Vegetine's wonderful power of curing me of this acute complaint, of which I have suffered so intensely.

THE MOLLIE MAGUIRES

A Gang Unearthed—Their Crimes Discovered.

PITTSBURGH Feb 25. Sheriff Gaffey of Westmoreland County has succeeded in [illegible] a gang of Mollie Maguires who have been operating for three years past in [illegible] vicinity of Irwin's station. Up to the time these men began work the relations between the miner and the employe were [illegible] amicable, but shortly after the men became dissatisfied and the feeling in[illegible] until it culminated in open out[illegible] The miners struck and during the [illegible] many instances of open violence [illegible]

The town of Irwins had been fired sev[illegible] times and once, more than half of it [illegible] ruins. The fires were attributed to carelessness at the time The Sheriff ob[illegible] last week and succeeded in [illegible] one of the suspected, who [illegible] a full confession This man, Parfitt, says the gang numbered 13 or 15 men, were regularly organized and held period[illegible] meetings in a hotel near Irwins. They organized and conducted the strikes, and [illegible] one of them a crowd of mollies at[illegible] a miner (Fowler) who was at work [illegible] mines, but were driven off after an [illegible] change of shots. The same night they [illegible] the tipple check houses and wagons [illegible] the Bald Eagle mines.

They have caused all the fires and dur[illegible] the July riots in this city they burned hay stacks, cut telegraph wires and killed a man named Carroll, whose body they placed on the Railroad track, where it was discovered at day light mangled and torn. Parfitt also brought to the Sheriff another of the gang who upon being cornered corroborated Parfitt's story. The rest of the Mollies hearing of the disclosure fled precipitately. Detectives at once went in pursuit and were close on them at last accounts. There is great excitement in the village and surrounding country.

Anderson Sent to the Penetentiary.

BRAZEN FACE WHITAKER.

The Jury According to Whitaker An Impartial One

NEW ORLEANS, Feb 25 Thomas C Anderson was called before the bar this forenoon and the motion in arrest of judgment overruled and when asked if he had anything to offer before sentence was passed, Anderson said that he considered his case a cruel prosecution under the forms of law, that he was in the hands of the Court and was ready to receive sentence Judge Whitaker answered that the accused had had a fair trial before an impartial jury and the verdict was fully justified by the evidence He then sentenced Anderson in consequence of the recommendation of the jury to the mercy of the Court to the lowest term under the law two years at hard labor in the State Penitentiary and costs A suspensive appeal was granted returnable Wednesday A motion to transfer the case of Wells, Kenner and Casanave to the United States Court was filed and will be heard Wednesday March 6

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

DEBATE IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

No Vote on Stratheden's Motion.

THE AUSTRIAN CREDIT VOTE.

The Porte's Reward

LONDON, Feb 25 The Times' Pera dispatch says as a reward for the Porte's (ineffectual) efforts to keep the British fleet out of the Dardanells the Czar consented that the Russians shall not come nearer to Constantinople than San Stefano, but at the same time he informed the Porte that he had great difficulty to prevent the Grand Duke Nicholas from marching into Constantinople as conqueror The Russians are coming to San Stefano as friends not exactly on invitation of the Sultan, but with his consent and the Grand Duke Nicholas will probably be invited by the Sultan to enter Stamboul with a military escort It is expected that the peace condition will be signed to-morrow (Monday) the Turks accepting all the conditions except these two about the immediate surrender of the iron clads and the payment to Russia of ten million roubles in cash and forty millions sterling in bonds The Turks have yet received no invitation to be represented at the Congress

The Feeling in St Petersburg

ST PETERSBURG, Feb 25 A much better feeling prevails here to-day The modus vivendi with England touching the Straits and the presence of the British fleet in the sea of Marmora, is regarded as satisfactory in official quarters There is no present intention to occupy Constantinople

Nicholas at St Stefano

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb 25. One regiment, a detachment of Cossacks and a special company detailed to escort the Grand Duke Nicholas, entered Stefano Sunday The Russian division is echeloned between Kutchuk Chekmedji and San Stefano Formal peace will probably be signed to-day.

The Austrian Peace Party

LONDON, Feb. 25 A dispatch from Vienna says the Hungarian Ministry and delegations will readily grant the vote of credit asked for by Andrassy, but the Austrians will probably offer some opposition A strong party, both in the Austrian Reichstag and delegations favor peace at any price They may however, be driven from their position by necessity for self preservation If it were ascertained at the outset that Austria in no case would stand up for what affects her in the East she must prepare to meet with pretentions so exaggerated as to make her resist them or else resign herself to the course of events.

Prince Charles Threat

BUCHAREST, Feb. 2[illegible] Prince Charles threatens to abdicate if Russia persist in claiming Bessarabia In Russian circles, Prince Gregory Stourdza is mentioned as a candidate for the throne of the Principality.

In the House of Lords—Campbell's Motion

LONDON Feb [illegible] In the House of Lords to-day Stratheden Campbell introduced a motion similar to the one he was to have offered last Monday, but which on appeal of Lord Derby he did not bring up as the Government declared it could not then discuss the subject The motion is in substance that in the opinion of the House the conditions proposed by the Russians to the Porte are such as to justify Her Majesty's Government in taking every precaution to discourage the encroachments by which the treaties of 1856 and 1871 are threatened

Derby's Speech—He Prevents a Vote on the Motion

In the debate which followed Derby spoke in decided terms concerning Russia's demand that an Egyptian tribute shall be pledged for the payment of indemnity bonds He said it might turn out that British interests would be very much involved in any claim for payment of a part of the indemnity from that tribute. He pointed out that the occupation of Armenia would bring the Russians no nearer to India Her Majesty's Government when they adopted the policy of neutrality were aware Russia must eventually triumph and very great changes ensue.

It was unfair to blame the Government now but a state of things had arisen which was the necessary result of the attitude of neutrality which the nation at the commencement of the war supported them in taking up Lord Derby concluded by moving the previous question, which was ultimately agreed to without division.

[NOTE —A motion on the previous question in the British Parliament practice, is a formal mode of avoiding a decision on the subject before the House, and its adoption in this case is equivalent to a postponement of a vote on Lord Stratheden's motion.]

The Austrian Credit Vote.

ST PETERSBURG, Feb. 25. The Agence Russe commenting on the proposed Austrian vote of credit says it is to be regretted that the conference should be introduced by measures which appear to determine its decisions before hand.

Will Have the Iron Clads.

The Agence says the statement is premature that the Grand Duke Nicholas has withdrawn his claim to the Turkish ironclads, but it is certain that the question will not create difficulties.

The Tidal Wave at Callao and the Earthquake at Iquique.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. Callao advices of the 20th ult. confirm the previous accounts of damage by the tidal wave and state that a large quantity of property and eight lives were lost. Waves of thirty to 40 feet high continued to momentarily break over the mole and along the coast. Several small moles also were destroyed. Vessels have not suffered much as yet, but are in very critical positions. Many inhabitants fled to Lima. On the 31st the sea had fallen somewhat and workmen began repairing the damages. The earthquake at Iquique was from North to South, producing great consternation but not much damage. There was no tidal wave although, there was an unusually low tide. In the interior the town of La Noria was considerably damaged and one man killed by a falling house. Railways were impeded by sand-slides.

CALLAO, Jan 31. The steamer Karral was reported lost of Chiloe, but the rumor is not confirmed. The Huascar was successfully towed from her anchorage and anchored opposite Santa Rosa fort. One of the heroes of Peruvian Independence, General Martinez de Aparicio, died yesterday. At the saltpetre works of the North the earthquake was very strong, lasting two minutes No accidents At Pisagua the earthquake was very severe. At 8 15 p m the sea was agitated and the inhabitants were greatly alarmed. It lasted two minutes.

LEO XIII.

Not so Liberal a Pope as Cardinal.

LONDON, Feb 25 The Manchester Guardian's Rome correspondent telegraphs that the feeling is growing that the new Pope is not so liberal as was thought It is certain that Cardinal Riccl and Leo XIII do not hold the same views. It is now believed that the Pope will remain secluded in the Vatican

The Shah of Persia Coming

VIENNA, Feb 25 The Political Correspondence announces that the Shah of Persia is expected in St Petersburg shortly. The Czar has offered him the hospitality of the Imperial court

INDIA

The Famine.

LONDON, Feb. 25 The Times' Calcutta despatch says the results of the famine are still distressing in Madras and Mysore — Unless the prices take a downward turn in March the relief works will be compelled to continue until August or September — The reports from Oude and northwest Provinces are equally unfavorable The poorer classes are suffering the most pinching distress

FROM PANAMA

Various Reports

NEW YORK, Feb 25 Additional advices from Panama state that parties who took possession of the schooner Sunbeam were defeated and pursued the revolutionists who offered to pay the captain of the schooner, but he refused, and then to save their lives by flight they took the schooner by force but no one suffered personal violence

The revolution in Costa Rica is suppressed

The Panama Star says that reported charges of official misconduct of the American Minister to Guatemala have been forwarded to that paper and suggests that he persists in making trouble with that government as [illegible] unnecessarily with Nicaragua

LOCAL MATTERS.

New moon next Sunday.

The sleighing has left us again.

Meeting of the Board of Aldermen this evening.

There will be a social assembly at Milford this evening. A good time is expected.

The indications are that a fine audience will greet Mrs Churchill at the Unitarian Church this evening.

During last week five deaths occurred in the city from the following causes, fever, two, heart disease, one, consumption, one, croup one

The Rev Robert Wylie of St. James' church, Oldtown, has been transferred to the Diocese of Fredericton, N B, and is to officiate in the Parish of Petitcodiac.

The Buskin Club have fully decided to present "Our Boys" next Friday evening. Special trains will be run to Oldtown and Bucksport at the close of the entertainment

A very pleasant German was held at Music Hall last evening. The last dance in the course takes place next Monday evening, after which another course will be started

The Happy Hour Association meet this evening at the residence of Dr Maxfield on Centre street Arrangements have been made for the omnibus to leave the Universalist church at about seven o clock

The remains of the late Jason Weeks arrived in this city on last evening's train The funeral service will be held at the residence of Mrs William Arnold, 20 Fourth street at half past two o clock this afternoon

To accommodate many who desire to attend the lecture of Mrs Churchill and the concert at City Hall, the lecture by Rev Mr Fay before the Art Association will be given on next Tuesday evening instead of to-night

Mr W P Delano has recently returned from San Francisco and has reopened at the old stand No 2 Exchange Block which he has fitted up in the best possible manner as a shaving and hair dressing saloon He will be pleased to see his former friends and customers

Last night a young fellow by the name of Mahaney imbibed too much of the ardent and began to create a disturbance at the house The officers were notified and went up after him They found the young fellow's father in another room with an axe in his hand with which he said he was trying to protect himself The young man was taken to the station house and locked up

Quite a large number participated in the dancing at City Hall last evening although only a few couples appeared in costume A silver cup had been secured which was to be presented to the couple which danced the longest without reversing or breaking Several couples started in the waltz and after dancing some time the dance was changed to a polka All but four couples then dropped out but we were unable to learn who got the prize, as they held out as if they meant to dance all night

ENTERTAINMENT AT CITY HALL This evening our citizens will undoubtedly avail themselves of the opportunity of listening to a rich musical and literary treat, and turn out in large numbers and give Miss Wiley and Miss Cayvan a warm reception The first named lady is well known by Bangor audiences as a singer of rare ability, and as she has always been a favorite here any comments from us are unnecessary Miss Cayvan possesses a fine figure a good voice, clear and musical and her elocution is very pleasing In speaking of the entertainment by these ladies at St John's last Saturday the Telegraph says "The fair, youthful reader Miss Cayvan excelled in all her pieces but she could not get beyond the height she reached in "The Saving of St Michael," in which her fine intonation and free and unfettered action produced a great effect, yet the "Blacksmith's Story like "Little Joe," of the previous night, was intensely tragic, "The Piper of Hucknow thrilling and "Jonnie Git Oot" well illustrated the innocent coquetry of manner, which forms no small part of the charm of that lady's readings, while Miss Maloney's opinions on the "Chinese Question" were decidedly amusing and admirably rendered Miss Cayvan was encored in "Robert of Lincoln" and gave another version of it which she naively announced as "Robert of Lincoln" She was also encored on "Johnny Git Oot," and gave "The Bachelors Auction" Miss Wiley was encored in about every piece, which was rather a serious matter, but she was equal to the occasion and most good natured and liberal in her responses" By refering to another column it will be seen that an excellent programme has been arranged for the entertainment Tickets can be obtained at Bugbee's

FROM MILO.

False Alarm of Fire—The Citizens get Rather Excited

Mr Editor—An alarm of fire was raised here in Milo Sunday noon between seven and eight o clock which for a while caused considerable excitement and any amount of amusement It seems that one of our prominent merchants on first going out Sunday morning thought or imagined, he heard the alarm of fire and he being quick to act in all business matters took up the cry and started out to render what assistance he could Not seeing just where the fire was, on account it was supposed of the thick fog, he harnessed up his horse and rode all over our village, but not finding any cause for alarm, he drove back and put up his team. His ride, however, had created an imaginary fire which soon set the village bell to ringing, while the people began to gather with buckets in their hands and the cry of fire on their lips. The sound of the fire bell was the drop in the bucket; excitement was on every face.

Our village truckman could see off in the east a cloud of black smoke rolling up, while an excited woman could surely smell the burning of shingles. Then the cry arose "Tis Capt. Smart's buildings." The captain is away in the woods and his interests must be attended to; horses were quickly harnessed and away they went, our little merchant who had again got the fever, leading the crowd.

On arriving at a house nearest to Capt. Smart's they inquired if there was a fire up that way. The man coolly informed them that he had a small fire if they were cold. In the meantime our truckman's smoke had rolled away in the fog and the sun came out as bright and beautiful as ever shown on a Sabbath morn. Soon the bell that had been ringing for fire began to ring for church, while a serious look began to gather on the faces of those who now quietly wended their way home realising the fact that fog and imagination make very good smoke, but is not fire.—One good thing was noticed, however,—our people got out to church uncommonly early that morning. THE DEXTER MURDER

Testimony at the Inquest

THE CORONER'S VERDICT.

The Latest Particulars.

THE STRANGERS SEEN IN DEXTER—VARIOUS REPORTS

The Parties Seen About the Bank Building—Suspicious Movements—The Funeral of Mr Barron

The excitement at Dexter, caused by the terrible discovery that Mr. Barron a highly respected citizen, had been foully murdered, and that the fiends had succeeded in making their escape, increases every day Who were the perpetrators of this fearful crime is at present shrouded in mystery A great many theories are in circulation, but nothing of importance has as yet been discovered The Bank authorities have secured the services of a detective who is now working up the case —From the Dexter Gazette extra we copy a portion of the following particulars and testimony before the Coroner's jury

Mr Charles R Favor says that he saw two men come out of the bank stairway at about six o clock Friday evening, and his description of one of them, as he remembers him agrees with what Mr Winslow saw The man was large and well dressed Mrs Kate Russell says that when going up the side-walk she saw two men come out of the building, go into the middle of the street and walk very rapidly down the street About four o clock in the afternoon Mrs V A Sprague on Free street noticed a large man as he passed by, she says she remarked his appearance, because not many strangers are seen upon that street, and also on account of his dress His overcoat seemed to be of broad-cloth, his hat was a round top one and he had a smooth face Mr D K Jenkins also saw the same man on the same street and beyond Samuel Eldridge's house We understand that a man corresponding with this description was here a week or ten days ago, and made inquiries of Mr S T Warner in regard to the proprietors of the mills here, that Mr Barron, who was near by at the time asked Warner who the man was, and remarked that he had been in the bank, making some inquiries about the safes, and that he was not pleased with his looks and appearance

On Friday night, between six and seven o clock Mr B [illegible] Dunham and [illegible] Mr Estes were coming towards Dexter, and when near Moody's mill, they met a team driven at a rapid pace There were two men in the sleigh and the collars of their coats were turned up and their caps or hats pulled down The strangers did not look around as they passed, but Mr Estes is positive that he has seen one of them on the cars several times, and that he is known as a gambler and desperate character Mr Edgar Russ saw this same team he supposes in the lower part of the village and he says when it passed him it went almost like a flash We hear that a similar team was driven through St Albans at the right time to be the one that was met by Messrs Dunham and Estes

Messrs D D Flynt and C H Parsley started from this place for Moosehead Lake Saturday afternoon at four o clock and returned last evening We visited Mr Flynt and ascertained that he and Parsley went to the Lake, arriving there at about midnight A team was met at Abbott on the night of the murder between the Upper and Lower Village, by Mr J P Moore at a time which would admit of it being the same that was seen at Jackson's Corner in Sangerville as mentioned in our Saturday's Extra Mr Moore's says the horse was very warm and showed every sign of hard driving At Monson a team went through at a time to agree with the team seen at points below and at Greenville, there were tracks of a team which went upon the Lake in the night In the morning Mr [illegible] made inquiries around Greenville, and followed the tracks on the Lake four or five miles, but as Messrs Goldridge and McCrillis were on the same trail Mr Flynt concluded that he would return He thinks there is no doubt but that a team was driven and driven very rapidly on the night of Mr Barron's murder from Dexter through the town of Sangerville, Abbot Monson Greenville and upon Moosehead Lake Now if there is any one up country or anywhere else that can explain this fact they should report immediately to Mr A F Bradbury President of Dexter Savings Bank so that no time may be lost in following a wrong trail We would not convey the impression that this is the only thing that the officers are on the track of, for they are at work in all directions But of course it will be seen that the sooner any circumstance is explained which demands explanation, the more advantageous it will be for the detectives [Since writing this, we have learned that Dr Mudgett, coming from Abbot Village where he had been attending a Masonic festival, met a team very rapidly driven, between Guilford and Abbot He met several, but noticed this one in particular, on account of the unusually rapid driving.]

Mrs Samuel Farrar and Miss Abbie Putnam went to the post-office last Thursday evening, and when directly opposite the door to the stairway in the bank building after starting for home a man and woman came out of the entry upon the sidewalk, and separated, the woman going up street and the man down. Miss Putnam tells us that she noticed them as they came off the stairs inside the entry, and when they came out she observed that the man was of good size, and had a pale looking countenance, and the woman was large, perhaps larger than the man—so large, in fact, as to attract her attention on that account She had a shawl over her shoulders that had rather a "slouchy" look. The fact of this couple coming out of the entry attracted her notice, as she thought it indicated a sociable in Masonic Hall, and wondered why her brother had not told her about it, as he is a Mason and she had been with him on such occasions several times. She also says that she looked at the parties rather closely, as it was her intention, if she recognized them, to ask what was going on in the hall; but she did not know them. She knows that it was about eight o'clock, as they went directly home and on arriving there it was five minutes past eight. It was about half past seven when Mr. Curtis went into the bank, accompanied by Mr. B. F. Eldridge, and deposited in the safe, $6,000, which had come in by express. They were in there not far from ten minutes. While in there, Mr. Curtis tells us that they heard no sound of any one coming up or going down. We have ascertained from Mrs. Barron that her husband was at home that entire evening; and the keys in the possession of Mr. Cobb and Mr. Bridgham, on account of Masonic Hall, were not used by any one that evening. All of this clearly indicates to our mind that the murderers were concealed in Masonic Hall, or its entry, on Thursday evening, that they knew of the arrival of the money, and that, had Mr. Curtis gone in there with the money, alone, as he has frequently done in times past, but as we hope he may never do again, he would have been overpowered and robbed. We can but believe that this was their object, and that the man and "woman" who were seen by Miss Putnam and Mrs Farrar, were the robbers, or a part of them Whether the sad affair at the Savings Bank was something that entered into their plans as a secondary matter or whether, failing at the National Bank on account of the timely presence of Mr Eldridge, they arranged the robbery of the other bank as an extemporary matter of course is but a matter of conjecture Some have thought that the ladies may have mistaken Mr Eldridge and Mr Curtis, with his shawl on for a man and a woman, but the fact that all these parties have been residents of this town for many years, and that Miss Putnam looked at them closely with the intention of speaking if she recognized them, taken in connection with the fact which she noticed that they separated and went in opposite directions while Messrs Eldridge and Curtis as we have ascertained from the gentlemen themselves went together up to Hatch's store would seem to dispose of that theory We called upon these ladies three times yesterday, and they made the same statement each time only more and more positive

AT THE INQUEST

Henry C Parsons sworn The last I saw Mr Barron was [illegible] minutes of five o clock Feb 22, 1878 in the front room of Savings Bank in Dexter He was sitting towards the east end of the table writing I left the room at that time, locking the door behind me at the head of the stairs —I went to the post office and then went home I was probably in the room two hours The room at the head of the stairs was locked I observed two or three times about half past four o clock two parties or more come to the door and try for admission and go towards the stairs that lead to Masonic Hall there were two or more at a time, for I could tell by their walking —The first time I went out was quarter past four I went to the post office the first time and went back and locked the door I then wrote a letter and went out to the post office and closed the door [illegible] and I went home

Charles G Crowell sworn When I went up the stairs I saw Mr Curtis and Mr Wood and they said he was alive for they could hear him breathe Mr Curtis said they could get to him through the National Bank Mr Wood tried to pass through between the safes but could not I took off my overcoat, undercoat and boots and got up over the Savings Bank safe door, which was swung open and could hear Mr Barron breathe The air was very hot and stifling Mr Curtis passed me the lantern and I put it up over the door but the light was so dim I could not see who it was, I put the lantern still further down and saw it was Mr Barron They helped me over the door and I jumped down and found Mr Barron bound and gagged, his hands fastened behind him I immediately went to work to get the gag out of his mouth Mr Wood passed me his knife and I cut it out When I took the gag from his mouth he did not breathe and I tried to inflate his lungs I stood him on his feet as well as I could while they pushed the door to Mr Wood and I got him out through the space between the safes, and carried him into the National Bank room His hands were secured behind him with handcuffs and I found a cord tied loosely around his neck The gag was pressed into his mouth very hard —It was a common pail handle I found the cord produced lying loosely around his neck The manacles produced are the same I found on him and when I saw [illegible] his hand I stayed with Mr Barron till five o clock in the morning [illegible] remain[illegible] unconscious all the time

Henry L Wood sworn Just previous to my going into the Bank Mr Curtis called into the post office and said it was strange what had become of Mr Barron I told him Mr Barron had left the office a short time before in search of Mr Parsons I thought Mr Parsons could give some account of him for I had seen him going towards the Bank room as late as the middle of the afternoon Mr Curtis then left the office going towards the Bank room door [illegible] I shortly followed him When I got to the head of the stairs I found Geo Hamilton and [illegible] W Curtis trying to unlock the Savings Bank door from the [illegible] They had no key that would fit the door They asked me if I had any I told them I had not Mr Hamilton asked me if I had an axe, told him I had and would get it I [illegible] down the stairs to get the axe and immediately returned [illegible] for [illegible] the door open but it did not [illegible] While we were at work on the door Mr Curtis said I think he is alive for I can hear groaning in my Bank room The thought then occurred to me that he might be suffering from coal gas I raised my foot and kicked one light of glass out of the door and got my head through but could smell no coal gas I then took the axe and broke out another square of glass and the partition between them and [illegible] through and jumped upon the counter and climbed over the wire netting because the door communicating was locked I jumped down on the other side and went to the vault door and found it locked and I could not open it I then admitted Mr Curtis Bement, Bradbury, and Hamilton Mr Curtis then opened the outer vault door We tried the inner vault door, found it locked, he said he could not open it for he had no key We could then hear heavy groaning or very hard breathing inside the vault Mr Curtis said, I think we shall have to try and reach him from the vault on the other side. He said it was a very narrow chance I said, "let's go and see" We passed into the National Bank Mr Curtis had previously opened the vault Mr Curtis said I had better take off my coat I did so and by hard work could just squeeze between the two safes I then found the passage barred by the right hand door of the Savings Bank Safe with some limp form on the other side pushing against it I then tried to climb over the door and found I could not for there was not space enough I could raise myself up over the door and see what appeared to be a human form lying upon the bottom of the vault I could see from the light shining from the other side I then said if some small sized person would come in I could help them over the door and Charles G Crowell said "I will try it" I helped him over the door and told him to get down as carefully as possible, and he did so As soon as he got on the other side he said "O my God, what a sight!" He said "he is gagged and bound" I said, "get the gag out as quick as lightning." I passed him an open knife and told him to cut the cord that held the gag in his mouth. I had previously passed him a lantern over the safe door I then told him to unloose his hands He says, "I cannot, for he is handcuffed" I then told him to try and raise Mr Barron's body up so I could swing to the door and help him. He did so. I swung to the door, took hold of Mr. Barron, and saw he was almost dead. It seemed it was as much as two minutes between each breath We both tried to support his lungs by blowing into his mouth, at the same time kept trying to get the body between the two safes, in the shortest time possible and as tenderly as possible. We did so We then carried him into the National Bank rooms and laid him on the floor on some coats. Dr. Clough requested us to lay him on the table. I then helped to remove the manacles by holding a small anvil while J. H. Fitzgerald cut the ring that held the manacles together. We found the manacles were not tight about the wrists so did not remove them at that time. I was present when the key was found to the manacles. It was found in the coal room at the right hand of the door leading into Mr. Barron's coal room. I tried it and found it fitted exactly.

W. H. P. Bement sworn I went down to Mr. Barron's Feb. 22, 1878, and he had not returned home and his wife was worried about him. The young lady said she was going up to the Bank to see if she could find him. Mrs Barron came out and asked me if I was going to the office. I told her I was going to the lecture, but would go to the office or to the Bank. She said he was probably locked in the bank, —he was troubled with heart disease, and she was afraid there was trouble. I enquired of Mr. Bradbury if he had seen Mr. Barron, and he said he had not; I then called at the post-office and asked Mr. Wood if he had seen him and he told me no and advised me to go to the Town Hall and see if I could find Mr Parsons, as he had no key to the Bank room I went to the hall and saw Mr Curtis, told him my fears and who I was looking for. Mr. Curtis and I came down and Mr Curtis went to the Bank I went back to the Bank; Mr Wood had an axe, and Mr Bradbury told me to stay the door in. He broke out two squares and went into the Bank and I followed him Mr Wood went over the grating into the Bank room and I went out into the back room where the coal was, found the coal hod turned over I then passed into the room where Mr Wood was Mr Curtis came in and I held the light while he opened the outer door of the vault Dr Clough came in and he and I held our ears down to the inner door of the vault and we could hear breathing on the inside of the vault I then went round to the National Bank side and they were just fetching Mr Barron out of the vault I went into the coal room and found his false teeth and his pen

Volney A Sprague sworn About five o'clock my son went home to supper I went and sat down by the window As I sat down I looked over towards the Bank I noticed the west window lower blind were closed, the east window blinds were open a small space when I looked through I noticed it particularly to see if I could see Mr Parsons, but I could see no one After I had read five or ten minutes I [illegible] the blinds of the east windows were entirely closed I was alone in my office at the time Mr Andrews the agent of the International Collection Company was in my office from 2 to 4 o'clock Alfred H Ryan was in the office also Mr Andrews left my office about half past four Feb 22 1878

Charles W Curtis sworn [illegible] Bank of which I am Cashier from [illegible] quarter past two o'clock Feb 22 [illegible] was in the Bank about fifteen minutes The Bank is on the same story of Savings Bank on the opposite side of the entry I did not see anybody in the entry I tried the door of the Savings Bank when I went out and found it locked My [illegible] not open the safe that time at all Mr Bement called me about half past seven o'clock [illegible] I went into the Bank about half past seven as near as I could judge I met Mr Hamilton and we went into the Bank together I opened my vault door and I could hear breathing and [illegible] inner door and could [illegible] breath [illegible] much plainer I called Mr Barron and got no answer I then took off my coat and [illegible] squeezed in between the safes and pushed against the door of the Savings Bank safe and found he was against it Then I went into the Savings Bank and opened the outer vault door of the Savings Bank on the [illegible] I found the inner door locked and had no means of opening that but [illegible] hear breathing I then went back into the National Bank I was in the Bank while Mr Crowell went over the door and I witnessed Mr Crowell and Mr Wood getting Mr Barron through into the National Bank I locked the lower door when I went out at five o clock but found it unlocked when I came back [illegible] found the door at the head of the stairs locked when I went up at half past seven

MONDAY'S TESTIMONY

The remaining testimony and the verdict of the Jury received by telegraph last night is as follows

Dr Clough sworn—I was called into the bank when Mr Barron was taken through the vault into the National bank room I had him put on the table He was in an insensible condition, breathing heavily, labored and very slow pulse feeble and irregular there was an abrasion over the right eye with [illegible] of [illegible] blow with some hard instrument [illegible] about half the size of a [illegible] was on the left side of the head which must have been caused by a blow with some hard substance there was also another [illegible] I find the right [illegible] besides having the appearance of having been strangled [illegible] veins upon his head were distended I gave him stimulants and his clothes loosened and applied friction to his extremities his [illegible] and his breathing improved a little I had Dr Springall and Mudgett called in We applied [illegible] without any perceptible [illegible] I think death came from blow strangulation, the gag and from being thrown into [illegible] vault Breathing being impeded I think he was strangled by other means than the gag as there was [illegible] on [illegible] below where the cord [illegible] on the gag [illegible] The blood was very dark almost black, and very thick as it would be when charged with carbonic acid gas — There was no indication of any heart disease in his [illegible]

Simon Mudgett sworn [illegible] corroborated the testimony of Dr Clough [illegible] condition of Mr Barron and [illegible] of his death

[illegible] Whitney sworn [illegible] the Savings Bank [illegible] Monday the 13th or 15th [illegible] but [illegible] which day it was [illegible] through my business with Mr Barron and was just turning to go I heard the door open and saw three strangers standing at the door I was waiting for them to go out so I could [illegible] I heard no [illegible] [illegible] something [illegible] stood [illegible] was this stranger [illegible] the door knob and did not let go His [illegible] broad shoulders [illegible] heavy dark beard and dark complexion His beard was slightly grey [illegible] common dark overcoat [illegible] of the [illegible] left [illegible] [illegible] complexion [illegible] [illegible] of medium size [illegible] soft hat The third one I cannot describe [illegible] was a small man looking over the large man's shoulder [illegible] just opened the door and looked in [illegible] the door I went out [illegible] no more of them It was in the afternoon I think I [illegible] could recognize [illegible] them

Charles S Winslow sworn—I passed the bank building Feb 22d [illegible] o'clock [illegible] I went by the back entrance I saw the front door was open It sounded as if there were two or three men in the [illegible] I saw one man He stood on the [illegible] the west side of the entry way He had the appearance of getting ready to go out He was facing me He was a large man a little above the medium size He had on a black light weight overcoat I can say positively that I saw more than this man but I heard others stepping round

Charles R Favor sworn I passed by the Savings Bank to the post office Friday night and noticed two strangers about the door of the bank building This was a little past five o'clock. One of them stood in the doorway of the bank building wrapping his coat about him The other man stood outside The outside person was the largest He was six feet tall and would weigh little less than [illegible] pounds I should judge He had on a dark and long coat They both had dark clothes The one outside had a soft hat on

Mrs Kate Russell sworn I came out of J W Leighton & Son's store on Friday last at half past six o clock P M Went past the Post office and within eight or ten feet of the Bank outer door The half past six o'clock bell was just ringing at the factory I noticed two men come out of the door of the Bank building and go out into the middle of the street as fast as they could walk and went down the street I turned and went down the sidewalk and up the Dustin Hill. I watched them until they got down past Mr Durgin's store. They walked very rapidly all the way and I do not think they spoke during the time The reason I noticed them was this On the night of the 31st day of December last, I was watching with a sick woman, Mrs Roberts, at the Kingsbury House on the declivity of Dustin's Hill At about half past twelve o'clock that night I saw a man standing on the piazza of that house, bent over appearing to be listening. He remained there about fifteen minutes. He was quite a large man and had on a dark overcoat and a soft hat. He was about six feet tall and square shoulders One of the men I saw leave the Bank building last Friday night I think was the same man I saw on the piazza that night. Think I could recognize the man if I should see him again. The other man was smaller He was buttoning up his coat as he went down the street. I did not notice the small man particularly as my attention was so strongly directed to the other. I saw the motions of these men, in locking the door that night. The recess of the door is such they might have locked it when I could not see them.

The Verdict Rendered

The jury found the following verdict. "That the said J. Wilson Barron came to his death fifteen minutes before six o'clock A. M., Feb. 23d, 1878; that at some time between the hours of fifteen minutes before five P. M., Feb. 22d, and half past six o'clock on the same day he deceased then in good health, while in the rooms of the Dexter Savings Bank of which he was Treasurer, was assaulted by two or more persons unknown to the jurors, blows were inflicted upon his head with some instrument unknown a gag was placed in his mouth securely fastened behind his head [illegible] cord was [illegible] about his neck for the purpose of strangulation or torture, his hands were securely fastened behind his back with hand cuffs he [illegible] in the vault containing the safes of the Dexter Savings Bank and the First National Bank, the doors were securely locked and he was there confined for a space of time from [illegible] one fourth to two and one half hours He was taken from said vault at about [illegible] P M in an unconscious state from which he did not revive Death came to his body from all the causes combined

A WARNING

[illegible] ha[s] been so [illegible] lost more than one [illegible] every one [illegible]

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

IS SUCH A REMEDY,

And is within the reach of all

IT WILL CURE THE WORST CASES

Nine Times out of Ten

We can now [illegible] [illegible] been arranged for the [illegible] St. The [illegible] mother [illegible] State of Maine [illegible] and had known from childhood of the wonderful curative powers of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. In the early morning the father had been out to the [illegible] he the physician arrived [illegible] stated that the [illegible] the mother [illegible] thought that she had great faith in JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT [illegible] will do neither harm nor good. While this conversation was taking place the poor lady was gasping for breath and it was evident that she would live but a few moments longer. But the mother quickly uncorked the bottle and gave a teaspoonful [illegible] the effect was like magic. In an instant she could breathe a little easier; the mother immediately commenced to bathe the throat externally and in a short time all present saw that the crisis was passed. In a few hours she was considered out of danger and in a few days was well. The husband of this lady related these facts to Mr. Jennings of our firm a few days ago in Boston. He said that JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT saved the life of his wife without the shadow of a doubt. Why should not every family in this State supply themselves with this priceless remedy at once and so be prepared for emergencies?

What is the trifling cost of a bottle or a box of this Anodyne compared with the worth of a human life? Lose not a moment, but let every family be supplied. If any are too poor to pay, send to us and state the facts and we will furnish it for nothing.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

Bathe the throat with quite warm water, wipe dry, saturate a red flannel with the Liniment and bind round the neck several thicknesses with a white cotton cloth outside. Give a teaspoonful internally, repeat twice a day till cured.
